DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 1 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Mittmann
(4,456,423

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claim(s) 1, 2, 4, rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Schwenk
(4,531,671) in view of Mittmann (4,456,423). Schwenk discloses all of the limitations of the claim(s) except for a flexible diaphragm member to vary the sectional area of the air passage. Mittmann discloses the presence of a flexible diaphragm member to vary the sectional area of the air passage. See fig. 3, 4 and claims 1 and 3. Hence, one skilled in the art would find it obvious to modify the system of Schwenk to include the a flexible diaphragm member to vary the sectional area of the air passage of Mittmann for the purpose of noise reduction.

Art Unit: 3749

Allowable Subject Matter

Claims 3, 5-8 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Conclusion

The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. The provided references are representative of the state of the art that is applicable to the applicant's invention.
